

THE NEW YORK SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO CHILDREN BOARD OF DIRECTORS ELECTS NEW MEMBERS SETH D. ROSENSWEIG, TOM CALIFANO, AND OWEN MAY

New York, NY — (November TK, 2022) — The New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (The NYSPCC) has elected Seth D. Rosensweig, Integrated Risk Technology and Enterprise GRC Partner at PwC, Tom Califano, Partner at Sidley Austin, and Owen May, Co-Founder, MDG Partners, to its Board of Directors.

As the world’s first child protection services agency, The NYSPCC is dedicated to responding to the complex needs of abused and neglected children, and those involved in their care, by providing best practice counseling, as well as legal and educational services. The Board of Directors plays a critical role in supporting the organization’s goals, and Rosensweig, Califano, and May will dedicate their time to help The NYSPCC in its mission to prevent abuse and help more children heal.

“We are incredibly fortunate to have Seth, Tom, and Owen join our Board of Directors,” said Mary L. Pulido, PhD., Executive Director of The NYSPCC. “Their expertise will aid us in our mission to keep children safe from abuse and neglect. We have important goals for the coming year, for expanded programs, strategic planning, and advocacy for proposed legislation, and our board members assist us with these efforts.”

Seth D. Rosensweig is a partner at PwC, where he leads an Integrated Risk Technology and Enterprise GRC practice. Seth focuses on helping clients transform their digital risk and GRC technology Risk monitoring functions. Prior to PwC, Seth was an Adjunct Professor at NYU Stern School of Business teaching Data Science and Analytics. Prior to that, Seth was Managing Director at Alix Partners and a Partner at Ernst & Young. Seth has over 20 years as a trusted advisor with clients on digital strategy and technology transformation and is a frequent speaker at industry risk and compliance events and is frequently quoted in industry trade publications. He speaks on topics related to BI, analytics, AI, Automation/Robotics, and transformation as it pertains to managing risk and compliance.

Tom Califano is partner in the New York office of Sidley Austin who represents large private and public companies in distress in and out of court; buyers of distressed companies and significant creditor constituencies. His practice has a particular emphasis on company and buyer side representation, working with a variety of industries including healthcare, energy and financial services.

Owen Arthur May, the recipient of a bachelor of science in biology from the University of Miami and an MBA from Fuqua Business School at Duke University, is an investment banking executive who began his career with Lehman Brothers in 1985. He founded his first full-service investment banking firm in 1994. He now serves as the CEO of a firm he co-founded - MD Global Partners, LLC., a boutique investment bank in New York, with the goal of catering to smaller institutional clients who are unable to access services from large banks.

The NYSPCC's team of highly-skilled therapists and professional staff provides an array of services to children, families, child welfare professionals, and other concerned community members. The services provided include therapeutic supervised visitation, trauma-focused counseling, school-based child sexual abuse prevention workshops, crisis debriefing for child welfare staff, best-practice training, research and evaluation, advocacy, and the maintenance of The NYSPCC'S Archives.

For more information about The NYSPCC and its services please visit nyspcc.org.

#

About The NYSPCC

The New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (The NYSPCC) is one of the most highly respected child protective agencies in the world. Founded in 1875, The NYSPCC helps the most vulnerable children of our community recover from trauma. And, more importantly, it helps prevent child abuse through its work with parents, teachers, children and foster care agencies. The NYSPCC's amazing work is used as a model for child welfare agencies across the nation. The NYSPCC has investigated more than 650,000 cases on behalf of over two million children and has educated over 53,000 professionals working with children on child abuse and neglect issues. Read more about The NYSPCC at <http://www.nyspcc.org/>

Media Contacts:

Amanda Cripe on behalf of The NYSPCC | amandacripe@high10media.com