

Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist – Youth

Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist

The New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (NYSPCC) is currently accepting applications for a Full-time Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist at the NYSPCC. The position is a hybrid of in-person and remote work. The Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist will work to support the development, delivery and promotion of the NYSPCC Training Institute curricula and materials. The Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist, in collaboration with other members of the Training Institute, will help to support local, national and international child abuse prevention initiatives. The Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist will help develop and deliver all abuse prevention programming targeting youth and parents/caregivers, with a focus on the Safe Touches program, an evidence-based child sexual abuse prevention program for K-3rd grade students that has been adapted for children with autism and similar disabilities. Additionally, this Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist position will be the point person for development, scheduling and delivery of all workshops for youth in 4th through 12th grades on topics of sexual abuse, bullying and sexual harassment prevention, online safety and healthy relationships.

The ability to deliver trainings virtually and travel to deliver workshops and trainings in-person via NYC public transportation is required, as well as the ability to work a flexible weekday schedule to accommodate an occasional early morning or evening session.

Responsibilities:

The Child Abuse Prevention Training Specialist for the Training Institute will support all activities of the Training Institute including but not limited to:

- Creating developmentally appropriate and engaging abuse prevention training curricula, materials and multi-media that incorporate best practices in child protection
- Keeping abreast of new research, news and media related to abuse prevention and child protection
- Conducting outreach to public and private schools and youth-serving organizations across New York City, including developing outreach materials, compiling outreach lists, and attending tabling events and resource fairs
- Coordinating and scheduling workshops for youth in 4th through 12th grades
- Communicating with school administrators, teachers, counselors and youth program staff, and providing excellent customer service
- Facilitating in-person child and youth workshops and parent and caregiver workshops on a variety of topics
- Collecting, entering and reviewing workshop data and participant surveys for continuous quality improvement, and generating quarterly and annual program reports
- Collaborating within the Training institute and across departments to meet funding goals and outputs
- Training other facilitators (staff and interns) on training curricula
- Supporting with the expansion of the Safe Touches program nationally, including facilitating training-of-trainers (ToT) and certifying facilitators

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree required. MSW, MHC, MPH or equivalent preferred, or 8-10 years of relevant experience.
- Experience teaching or providing workshops for youth; working with families and youth with histories of trauma and abuse.
- An understanding of the complexities of domestic violence, child abuse and neglect and the child welfare process is essential.
- Bi-lingual (English/Spanish) is a plus.

Salary: $70,000

Excellent benefit package, including health insurance (medical, dental and vision), 403B plan with match, life insurance, and generous vacation/personal day leave.
